DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 02/16/05 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant is reminded of the election of Group I to the device as confirmed by applicant on 09/01/05.

Response to Amendment

The declaration filed on 01/18/05 under 37 CFR 1.131 is sufficient to overcome the 102 (e) rejection of Stone (6,666,848)reference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,5-6, 12-14, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lawin et al. (USPN 5,792,478) in view of Johnson (USPN 5,893,839) and further in view of Hill (USPN 6,258,067).

Lawin et al. disclose a kit comprising injection with the use of a syringe and needle combination of a plurality of discrete coated particles in a carrier having dimensions between 200 and 500 microns. See abstract and columns 2-4. However, Lawin et al. does not disclose a bend needle. Johnson (5,893,839) discloses a syringe for delivery of treatment material with a needle having a length of approximately of about 10cm (approximately 4 inches) in obese people. Johnson discloses the length and the arc to be variable depending on the patient and the site of the target location to those of ordinary skill in the art of delivering treatment material to the body with a syringe and needle combination. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of delivering treatment material to the body to use the syringe of Johnson as the delivery device to deliver the bulking agent of Lawin.

With respect to claims 6 and 16, Lawin in view of Johnson disclose the invention as substantially claimed. See above. They disclose a syringe and needle combination delivery device. However, they do not disclose a depth shield. Hill discloses a syringe having a bend needle with a depth shield to prevent further penetration of the needle in the analogous art of syringes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the syringe/ delivery device of Lawin et al. in view of Johnson with a shield as taught by Hill in order to prevent further penetration of the needle to the desired location or to prevent puncturing and damaging on non-target site.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 02/16/05 have been fully considered but they are moot further in view of the new rejection. Further, Applicant is reminded that the claims are directed to apparatus claims. The device of the prior art is capable of performing the intended use.
